

Call for Proposals

10th Annual

Kentucky Conference on the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning

Creativity and the Educated Person: A New Era

May 26-27, 2010
Marriott Griffin Gate Resort, Lexington, Kentucky

Proposals due February 1, 2010

Since 2008, the Kentucky Conference on the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning has merged with the Teacher Quality Summit to offer college faculty and administrators a forum to examine topics related to K-12 partnerships, adult and postsecondary education. The 10th annual conference is jointly sponsored by the Council on Postsecondary Education, Kentucky's public postsecondary institutions, the Association of Independent Kentucky Colleges and Universities, and the Kentucky Association of Colleges for Teacher Education. Peer-reviewed presentations, panel discussions, and poster sessions provide conference participants the opportunity to discuss the scholarship of teaching and learning and to share innovative instructional techniques and technologies. Upon completion of the conference, participants will understand major trends in the redesign of education, become aware of key issues facing Kentucky educators, and network with other Kentucky faculty and P-12 educators.

The conference will run from Wednesday, May 26, to mid-day Thursday, May 27. We encourage presentations that address the Conference theme, "Creativity and the Educated Person: A New Era." Presenters are expected to engage their audience. Preference will be given to those submissions identifying ways in which they will engage participants (e.g. small group discussion, case study, or problem-based learning) and will be rated higher in the review for acceptance. Because this conference combines K-12 and postsecondary education, please give consideration to integrating your presentation for both audiences. Indicate your intended audience(s) and track(s) with which your presentation topic most closely aligns:

Tracks:

Regional Stewardship
General Education
Critical and Creative Thinking
Communication
Quantitative Reasoning

Student Success
Technology
Instructional Strategies
(e.g. teamwork, assessment)

Proposals must be submitted online. The online submission form is available at <http://www.wku.edu/teaching/db/conferences/cpe/>. Acceptance notification will be by e-mail by approximately March 1st. A worksheet is available for those who want to type and edit proposal information prior to entering the information online.

Comments or questions about the call to proposals can be directed to Dr. Susan Weaver at 606-539-4325 or email: Susan.Weaver@ucumberlands.edu.
